Never Ordinary

Design your day —

In all our years of helping couples like you prepare for one of the most beautiful days of your life, we've learned some things. The most important one is this:

Your wedding is YOUR day. It's all about you. Both of you. Even if you've heard it a million times, we don't think you can hear it enough.

Ignore the voices telling you what a wedding "should" be. Let go of traditions that don't reflect who you really are. Embrace what brings you joy, and leave the rest.

We're here to be your wedding-planning champions as you plan and design your day down to the smallest detail, so you can relax and focus on each other. We'll make sure it's a gorgeous celebration of your love for each other, while also giving your guests an unforgettable luxury experience they'll talk about for years to come. After all, your wedding is a day to surround yourself with all the people who love you the most. We promise to spoil them almost as much as we'll spoil you.

Yours is no ordinary love story, and The g is no ordinary wedding venue. You're in good hands.

Butterflies. Magic. Electricity.
That involuntary intake of breath. The hitch and skip of your heart. A sudden flush of warmth and joy that floods through your whole body.

GETABLE

It's a feeling you recognise from falling in love. From standing in front of a masterpiece. From anything that exceeds your wildest dreams. It's the feeling we've built The g around from the very beginning. On your wedding day, you deserve nothing less, from the first moment to the last.

"Wow" is in our DNA. Philip Tracey, milliner to the stars, brought his wild creativity and originality to The g when we first opened back in 2005. Ever since, we've celebrated the wonder of fearless self expression and over-the-top joy. Every day, but especially on your wedding day.

BE BRAVE - DO THINGS YOUR WAY

Make a — statement

06

Falling in love is about seeing the one-in-eight-billion wonderfulness of a human being, and knowing that they see yours, too. Your wedding is your chance to share your unique selves.

Forget cookie-cutter. Banish cut & paste. You deserve so much more. The g Hotel has always been a champion of doing things your own way. From the moment you book your wedding with us, your vision for your wedding becomes our guiding light. All of our packages can be customised just for you.

An intimate micro wedding, sweet and understated. An epic gala celebration, bursting with outrageous opulence. A traditional wedding with all the trimmings (and a twist). Anything is possible at The g, so trust us with all your dearest wedding dreams and your wildest wedding fantasies.

Galway is Ireland's most romantic city. Yes, we're partial, but that happens when you're wildly in love.

Because this city runs away with your heart, whether you're a life-long local or just discovering it for the very first time. Galway is the jewel of The Wild Atlantic Way, where modern sophistication rubs shoulders with rugged scenery and a new adventure waits around every corner. It bursts with creativity and colour, arts and culture, stories and legends and unforgettable characters. Best of all, it's never been fully tamed. There's no better place to be yourself, and no better place to be in love.

Off the beaten path, but easily accessible, Galway is an incredible wedding location. You have your choice of spectacular photo opportunities in the city centre or by the windswept sea, and endless activities to keep guests entertained on either side of your wedding day.

“Everybody loves things that sparkle.”

- Philip Treacy

That will be you on your wedding day: practically shimmering with happiness and love.

So celebrate in a setting that reflects all that light right back at you. One of the great joys of a wedding at The g is the magical ambiance of this beautiful space. As the scenery shifts, the day just flows, smoothly, from one perfect moment to the next.

The festivities begin with a glamorous drink reception in our Grand Salon, with the last rays of evening sun filtering through the panoramic windows. An otherworldly installation of crystal baubles glittering overhead. The mellow twinkle of a grand piano. Something crisp and sparkling in every glass.

Then, it's time to move to the ballroom. Dinner is served. Once again, everything seems to glow: the stately chandeliers, the gleaming mirrors flanked by art nouveau sconces, the flicker and play of candlelight against the table settings. And most of all, the faces of everyone you love as they raise a toast to everything you are together.

When the last toast is toasted, and the last crumb is devoured, it's time to dance. You might not make it to bed before the sun begins to rise over Lough Atalia. But no matter how tired you are or how rumpled your wedding clothes might be, you'll still shine. You can't help it. Because until you fall asleep, it's still your wedding day.

If you're getting married at one of Galway's beautiful churches, it won't take you long to arrive, and when you do, we'll make sure you make a grand entrance. If you're having a civil ceremony, we'd love to create a stunning space where you can exchange your vows, whether it's for a dozen of your dearest in our penthouse suite, or a grand gathering of 180 in our glorious ballroom.

Every — moment matters

Some of the most wonderful memories of your wedding happen before and after the big event. The electric energy of getting ready. The blissful relief of being tucked up in bed after the last dance is danced, marvelling over what's just happened. With 101 glorious guest rooms, including our magnificent suites, The g Hotel creates a self-contained world for you and your guests, where you can soak up the blissful vibes and lose yourself in the magic of the moment.

The Linda Evangelista Suite is our breathtaking penthouse bridal suite, with a private terrace for your champagne wedding breakfast and gorgeous separate living area with the option of private dining for up to six guests. But we understand if you'd rather keep it all to yourselves.

Weddings are about people.
You and your beloved, first and foremost, and the family
— born and chosen—
who gather to celebrate you.
But at The g Hotel,
it goes farther than that.

On your wedding day, you deserve to be surrounded by love, care, and goodwill on all sides. Here, the whole team is devoted to your joy. This is five-star service with a big warm heart, and you'll feel that warmth everywhere you turn.

Getting married is intense. Even when everything is perfect, there's often a moment of overwhelm. When that happens, you won't have to look far for a friendly pair of eyes and a helping pair of hands. We're here to take care of you.

OUR CHEF

And now we feast

20

The perfect wedding menu is non-negotiable. The best day of your life includes the best food of your life. And we'll make sure you have time to savour it.

We'll help you craft a menu to remember. One that reflects your taste and features your favourites, is familiar enough to please the pickiest Nan or grumpiest great-uncle on the guest list, and also showcases exquisite ingredients and haute techniques to wow even your foodiest friends. It's a tall order, but we're well able.

The hardest part is narrowing it down, but our indulgent tasting experience helps. Honestly? There's no way to get it wrong at The g. From arrival canapés to late-night snacks, expect Ireland's finest artisan produce, prepared with love and style by our brilliant culinary team.

“Extra” is the beginning

We believe that nothing is too extra for an event as incredible as your wedding. We're always excited to help you create a wedding itinerary that extends before and beyond the day itself. The delight is in the details.

Pre-wedding celebrations can begin as early as the engagement, whether you're envisioning an informal party with cocktails and canapés, or an elegant three course dinner in GEO. Then there's the bridal shower and even the hen do: how does champagne afternoon tea and a heavenly day of pampering at ESPA sound?

The night before the wedding, you may want to host close family or out of town guests for a rehearsal dinner: a bit of casual finger food and a few drinks, or sit-down private dining with a set menu for up to 40 in Gentleman's Lounge.

The day after the main event, a relaxing brunch or lunch in the restaurant is a wonderful way to relive your wedding memories while they're still fresh, laughing over the speeches and the dance moves, and passing around phones to share the first candid pictures of the big day.
